GREECE UNTIL
AFTER ELECTION

London, Nov. 12.—The military republican group in Greece has requested King George to leave the country "for a brief period" pending the general election in December, and the monarch has consented, said a Central News dispatch from Athens today.

The military republican group in Greece wants to abolish the monarchy and proclaim a republic.

It is understood King George will absent himself about two months, appointing a regent or asking the cabinet to constitute a regency during his absence.

Dynamic questions will be discussed by the Greek national assembly later.

COOLIDGE STARTS
WORK ON MESSAGE
TO 68TH CONGRESS

Its Delivery To Signalize
Opening Of 1924 Presidential Campaign.

TOUCH ON DOZEN
MAJOR SUBJECTS

Farm Relief, Transportation,
Taxation And Immigration Included.

Washington, Nov. 12.—President Coolidge started today the preparation of the most momentous document of his political career—his message to the incoming 68th congress.

For the next two weeks the president will deny himself to purely social callers, and, cutting his engagements list to the bone, will devote the major portion of his time to the drafting of the annual message.

No communication has aroused more interest and "watchful waiting" than the coming Coolidge message. Its delivery will signalize the opening of the 1924 presidential campaign.

From the contents will be determined the Coolidge policies to be carried to the people in support of his candidacy for election. Equally, it will furnish the Democratic party and its many aspiring standard-bearers with 1924 ammunition.

The president, according to advance information, plans to touch upon approximately a dozen major subjects. These will include agricultural relief, transportation, the merchant marine, taxation and immigration.

Farm aid, in the president's mind, is perhaps the most important subject to be taken up, both from the economic and political aspects.

The presidential views already have been fairly well forecasted by the Meyer-Mendell report suggesting creation of a huge cooperative marketing system as the best solution.

Transportation marks up to the moment of the messages delivery. President Coolidge has not committed himself on this subject to date. However, it has been stated he will favor a hands off policy.

CHURCH OBSERVES
'VISITATION' DAY

Cleveland And Canton Men Speak; 60 Come From Other Cities.

Sunday was a big day at the M. E. church. It was Visitation Day and the congregation entertained over 60 visitors from churches at East Palestine, Alliance, Sebring, Columbiana, Leontina and other nearby towns.

Dr. Carl Yoder, of Cleveland, recently appointed director of religious education of the Northeast Ohio conference, was among the visiting speakers, and he presided over the conference which followed the luncheon at the Elks home.

At the luncheon Dr. W. B. Armstrong, Canton district superintendent, was the chief speaker, his talk dealing with Sunday school and religious work. Superintendents from the different visiting schools gave talks. There were about 100 at this luncheon.

Departmental conferences were held in the afternoon at the church. These workers had charge of them:

Primary, Mrs. Linn Dana, Warren; Junior, Mrs. L. B. Braderick, Warren; Intermediate and young people, Mrs. Murray, Niles; senior and adult, Fletcher Oliver, East Palestine.

Strong points of the local school as seen from the visitors' standpoint were sociability, cordiality, enthusiasm in the classes, the teachers being on time and having their lesson well prepared.

Salem Service Conducted By Legion At Grave Of Charles Carey.PRESENT FLAG TO PUBLIC LIBRARYAddress At Cemetery And Presentation Of Flag
By Rev. Miller.

Five years ago Sunday the then President Wilson at a joint session of the two houses of congress said: "Gentlemen, the Armistice was signed this morning. Everything for which America fought has been attained. It is now our solemn duty to carry on the great principles for which the soldiers fought so gallantly."

What a contrast the fifth anniversary of the signing of that memorable document was to the day in 1918 when millions of Americans went wild with joy when the word flashed over the world that the war was at an end.

Sunday Salem observed the signing of the armistice with a simple, yet very solemn and significant ceremony. There were no thousands of cheering people in the streets. There was a band, but not the same music was heard Sunday as five years ago. There were soldiers in uniform but they thought of deeper, more serious things yesterday than when they threw down their arms and started for home as the World war came to an end.

Legion In Charge
Charles H. Carey, post, American Legion, had charge of the day. Its observance was one which every Salem citizen who witnessed the ceremonies at the grave of Charles H. Carey and at the Carnegie library will remember.

Headed by the Quaker City band, the parade left the legion post rooms at 2:30, moving toward Grandview cemetery. In line were members of the post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, representatives of the navy and other branches, the legion auxiliary, gold star mothers, who had lost a son, G. A. R. veterans and the mother and father of the comrade whose grave was decorated, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Carey.

At the burial ground the short simple ceremony, honoring America's hero dead, those brave men from Salem and vicinity who gave their all, was held at the grave of Charles H. Carey, first Salem man to fall in the conflict.

Post Chaplain Rev. H. L. Miller was entrusted with the task of honoring the departed heroes in the name of the American Legion. He gave a brief address in which he said, in part:

"We are here to honor not one comrade but those many comrades from Salem and vicinity, and those buddies across the sea whom we learned to love so well. At the grave of Charles H. Carey we bow today in tribute to those many friends of ours who died that democracy might live, that we might have health, prosperity and happiness today while they unselfishly gave up their tomorrows for us."

LISBON JEWELER
DIES SUDDENLY

Lisbon, Nov. 12.—Frank N. Benner, aged 67, owner of the longest established jewelry business in Columbiana county, dropped dead in his home West Lincoln Way Sunday morning as he was preparing to take a bath. He succeeded to the jewelry business founded here by his father Josiah Benner.

Mr. Benner was born in Lisbon and received his early education in the Lisbon schools. He was always interested in outdoor life and was a charter member of the old Lisbon Rod and Gun club. He was a member of Lisbon lodge No. 65, F. & A. M., and of Salem commandery, Knights Templar.

Surviving are his wife, Mary, one sister, Mrs. James Wisden, and one daughter, Mrs. George Riddle. The funeral will probably be held Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Benner was in Chicago, at the time of the death of her husband, visiting a Lisbon Sunday night.

Deputy Registrars
Of Autos Appointed

Secretary of State Thad Brown has announced the appointment of several Columbiana county men as deputy registrars of automobiles for the towns in the county. There men are:

D. W. Davis, Salem; James E. Brenner, Wellsville; H. W. Hammond, Columbiana; J. S. Hilbert, East Liverpool; A. W. Ferren, East Palestine; H. C. McCammon, Lisbon.

These deputy registrars shall accept applications for the annual license tax and assign distinctive numbers in the same manner as the secretary of state.

She "Gets Even" With Policeman

Mr. & Mrs. Walter Meyer.

When Miss Margaret Sterba, daughter of a wealthy New York manufacturer, sped her racing car in downtown New York, Motorcycle Policeman Walter J. Meyer gave her a summons. In traffic court next day she paid a fine of $25 and hissed at Meyer: "I'll get even with you, Mr. Policeman. If it takes a lifetime, you did this, and you'd better watch out!" She visited his beat next day to repeat the threat. Meyer grew apologetic and an argument ensued. Well, you know how it is, Miss Sterba got even. She married Meyer, with Papa Sterba and Papa Meyer as witnesses.

McAdoo Will Announce
His Candidacy Soon

Washington, Nov. 12.—William G. McAdoo will formally declare himself to be a candidate for the presidency within the next 30 days.

This was the understanding prevailing among Democratic leaders here today at the conclusion of a week's conference between the ex-treasurer and his political supporters in the capital.

The exact date has not been fixed, but the avowal will be made soon after President Coolidge delivers his message to congress—a document that the Democrats are looking forward to with as keen zest as the Republicans.

McAdoo's departure for the west today brought an end to the busiest period of political planning that Washington has witnessed in months. During his stay of a week here, McAdoo saw and conferred with every Democrat leader of prominence around the capital, and he had several long talks with his distinguished father-in-law, Woodrow Wilson.

From his conferences he had with Democrats here and from his somewhat guarded utterances to newspaper correspondents, the inference may be drawn that the chief planks of the McAdoo platform, when announced, will be domestic policies rather than foreign.

Mr. McAdoo talked freely about the railroad problem and the agricultural situation, but about matters of foreign policy he was distinctly reticent. He spoke about a "sensible foreign policy" without going into details of such a policy.

SALEM KNIGHTS

200 Candidates Get Fourth
Degree At K. C. Meeting
In Youngstown.

Ten members of Salem council, Knights of Columbus, took the fourth degree, the highest in the organization, Sunday afternoon at Youngstown, exemplified at the Moose hall, in charge of James J. Murray, master of the Fourth Ohio district, when for the first time this degree was conferred in Northern Ohio, outside of Cleveland.

Those from this city were: Rev. A. J. Manning, Joseph H. Dertus, Dr. L. F. Dertus, Earl G. Diville, John Entriens, Dr. E. S. Maier, John Smeltz, P. C. McNico, Thomas J. McNico and John McNico.

They were members of a class of nearly 200 candidates, others coming from Cleveland, Youngstown, Akron, Warren, Canton and Alliance.

Following the work a formal banquet was served at the Hotel Ohio to 600 knights and their ladies. Eugene Quigley of Cleveland, was the toastmaster at this notable function.

George Hermann Derry, professor of economics in Union college, Schenectady, N. Y., gave the principal address on "The Columbian Contribution to the Citizenship of the Republic." Among other speakers were T. C. O'Reilly and J. J. W. Power of Youngstown. Jack Carabell's orchestra played during the banquet.

As a token of the esteem in which he is held by the Youngstown assembly Mr. Murray was presented a silver service.

The women in Salem party were Mrs. L. F. Dertus, Mrs. Smeltz, Mrs. John McNico and Miss Helen Dertus.

Will Appear.

What peculiar trait of character is it that would warrant your calling a friend or acquaintance "The Valiant?"

What kind of love is it that would inspire a man to calmly walk to his death with a smile on his lips, and a song in his heart?

What type of girl is it who, would inspire a man to give up all that life holds dear and still consider it not enough? Is it the flapper? Is it the old-fashioned girl?

These questions will be satisfactorily answered in the one act production, "The Valiant," one of the four one act plays which will be presented at the High school auditorium Tuesday and Wednesday nights by the Salem Community Players, who have been taking dramatic training in the drama institute conducted by the Community Service.

Director George Junkin of the institute stated Monday that the casts of all four plays went through final rehearsals Monday afternoon and everything is in readiness for what is regarded as the most unique home talent productions ever staged here.

King Tut's history will be told in pantomime form in "King Tut's Dream," the first play on the program.

Mirth Provoking Farces
"The Valiant" will follow, with two mirth provoking farces, "The Silent System" and "The Previous Engagement," last on the entertainment program.

Ray F. Carter, Community Service representative, Monday announced the list of patronesses for the show. They are:

Mrs. W. H. Dunn, Mrs. H. H. Sharp, Miss Judith Brooks, Mrs. F. H. Sebring, Mrs. C. C. Gibson, Mrs. L. W. Vinson, Mrs. C. S. Carr, Miss Isabel Mullins, Mrs. R. B. Anderson, Mrs. Richard Pow, Mrs. Ashabel Carey, and Mrs. W. F. Deming.

The ticket committee reports most encouragingly and it is believed that record breaking houses will greet these premier productions of the Community Players.

Reserved seats are on sale at Rich & Lugg's at 75 cents, with general admission to other seats at 50 cents.

Beginning Sunday and continuing for three weeks evangelistic services will be held at this church each evening at 7:30, except Saturday. They will be in charge of the pastor, assisted by Clarence Cosand of Damascus, singing evangelist.

The services Sunday were well attended and splendid messages were tendered by the pastor. The so-called work was much appreciated.

In Accidents East And West Of The City.

Phil Cronin, Cleveland, formerly of Salem, is in the Salem City hospital with serious lacerations of the face and arms, and two scalp wounds as the result of an auto accident Sunday night.

C. C. Tyler, Cleveland, former Salem florist, who was in the auto with Cronin, escaped uninjured.

The three men were riding in a new touring car on Garfield ave. about 10 p. m. Sunday. Tyler was driving and as the car neared the corner of Fifth st and Garfield ave., coming south, the machine became unmanageable, according to witnesses, because of the glaring lights of an approaching auto.

Swerving from side to side of the street the large machine struck two telephone poles at the southwest corner of the intersection, overturning, and grinding it almost to a complete mass of wreckage.

Cronin was on the side that struck the poles and his body crashed against the windshield. His face and arms were badly cut by flying glass, while his head struck the glass in the dog of the car.

Tyler leaped out as the machine struck the poles and except for minor cuts escaped without injury.

It was very fortunate for the three men that all escaped with the small injuries that they sustained because the car crashed into the pole at great force, demolishing it and showering glass in all directions.

Monday hospital physicians stated that Cronin's injuries are considered serious but that he is much improved. With Tyler, Cronin had come down from Cleveland, for a day's visit with friends.

Four Other Wrecks
Four other wrecks in and near Salem added to the week end total of usual accidents, in which nine autos were damaged.

Ten persons were shaken up and slightly injured when two large touring cars crashed headon on the corner of a half mile west of Salem on the Damascus rd. at 7 p. m. Sunday.

Simon Burton of New Philadelphia, driving west in a car containing his wife and three small children, was cut by flying glass when his machine collided with an auto belonging to Jesse Shepherd, New Albany, in which Mrs. Shepherd, a son and two other women were riding.

No one was seriously injured but the two cars were completely demolished by the impact, Shepherd's car being hurled off the road. He was coming towards Salem and stated that it looked as though both machines had ample room to pass.

It is reported that both drivers turned in slightly to avoid hitting the culvert wall and crashed headon.

The two other women in the Shepherd car were Mrs. Braderly and Mrs. Ruth May. Mrs. Braderly is said to be internally injured and is confined to her home, although Sunday night she was thought to have escaped uninjured.

Near Damascus two cars, a sedan and a touring car, crashed in a similar manner, but all persons in the machines are said to have escaped unhurt.

Between Bolot and Sebring one large car is reported to have sideswiped another, both cars going into the ditch.

On the Millville hill late Sunday night three cars were wrecked, one completely.

5,000 IN NATION
ARE KILLED BY POISON BOOZE

Washington, Nov. 12.—Approximately 5,000 deaths from bad booze have been reported in the United States this year.

Treasury enforcement experts made this estimate, and expressed the fear that another 1,000 or more fatalities might occur before the holidays are over.

This estimate takes into account deaths reported by hospitals and other sources as having been due to heart disease which actually is attributed to drinking liquor containing different kinds of poison.

Message By Wilson
Is Heard By Radio

While scores of Salem radio fans listened in on ex-President Wilson's Armistice day address Saturday night, those who gathered at the High school auditorium to hear the radio message were disappointed.

Interference on the "line" was stronger than Wilson's husky voice and cheers of Homer Peters, who had installed his radio outfit, to amplify the message failed to produce results. Those who used hand phones heard every word of the message.

BERLIN DEFENDS
PRINCE'S RIGHT
TO RETURN HOME

Paris, Nov. 12.—The German government, in a note to the allied countries, today defended the right of the former German crown prince, Friedrich Wilhelm, to return to his native land from his place of exile in Holland.

The communication was a reply to a note dispatched by the ambassadors to Berlin last week protesting against Wilhelm's return. The allied ambassadors warned Germany they feared his return might have grave results.

The German government pointed out that the former crown prince is a German citizen and the reich could not refuse admittance to a German citizen.

With three of Salem's young women entered in the popularity contest which will be put on in connection with the firemen's and policemen's winter circus and mardi gras all next week, keen rivalry has developed and each contestant is claiming to be in the lead.

Miss Hazel Knepper, Miss Rose Rogers, and Miss Ruth Kent are now in the running. Miss Minnie Schler, chairman of the contest, stated Monday. Any other girl in the city is eligible and urged to enter the contest to determine Salem's most popular girl, to whom a diamond ring is to be given.

The ring to be awarded the winner is now on display at the Leland watch shop.

Votes are sold by the girls at one cent each. All money thus taken in will go directly to the firemen and policemen to be added to the fund for new uniforms and arms.

All indications point to an elaborate and successful mardi gras and carnival. "Big time" acts are wired that they will be here next Sunday in time for the first matinee performance Monday afternoon.

The carnival is to be held in the old Masonic rooms in the Hemminger building and will consist of vaudeville acts, most of which will be free, concessions, exhibits of all kinds and dancing. A tight wire artist will perform twice daily on a wire stretched across the street.

Members of the two city departments who are busy selling season tickets for the affair state that they are receiving generous response from everyone. The souvenir program is ready for the printers and will be out soon.

STUDY MAN-MADE LIGHTNING

Engineers Confident That Experiments Going On Will Prove to Be Successful.

Two-million-volt artificial lightning is being created in the research laboratories of the General Electric company, Pittsfield, Mass., in order that buildings and high power electrical transmission lines may be protected against the powerful "electrical dynamo" that nature discharges during storms, reports the Kansas City Star.

F. W. Peck, Jr., engineer in charge of the spectacular experiments now in progress, explains that in addition to the trouble that engineers have in keeping power current from escaping from the conductors there is the very important problem of lightning protection. A few million horsepower are released in a fraction of a millionth of a second when lightning crashes. Electrical engineers must know how to prevent this destructive force from reaching the conductors of power lines or they must arrange so that it will discharge harmlessly to the ground when it does get to the line.

The highest voltage actually used at the present time for the commercial transmission of power is 220,000 volts on a line in California, but the General Electric company has an experimental million-volt line. Mr. Peck declared that it is too early to say whether such high voltages will ever be acquired in practice.

lage has been converted into a tions for about 25 worshippers.

NEGLECTING THEIR LANGUAGE
Younger Chinese Since the Revolution Show a Preference for English and French.

To judge from the numerous articles that are being written on China, its literature is not reaping great benefits from the revolution. In the first place, the Chinese language is being pushed more and more into the background. The younger generation no longer receives the training it once received in the Chinese "classics," and hand in hand with this goes their preference for foreign languages—
English primarily, and then French, with a little German. It is, of course, impossible for a country to build up a body of national literature in a foreign language. Intellectually, however, China is making reassuring progress.
Its three greatest political writers, all of whom have been active now for nearly a quarter of a century —Tschang Schi-tung, Kang Yu-wel, and Liang Kitching—are as active as ever in their efforts to save the nation from the fate of India or Burma or Korea or Egypt or Poland.

SCHOOL FAIR IS GREAT SUCCESS

Children of the Washingtonville
school in an effort to secure funds to pay off the debt on their piano and
money to buy supplementary reading,
"put it over" last Friday night, when
under the direction of Miss Mary Fitzsimmons, a school fair was held.
There were booths arranged in the
different rooms, from which candies, fruits, pastry and fancywork were
sold, and there were "fish" booths,
into which customers "fished" for
packages.
Fishing provoked much merriment,
as the back of the booth was
darkened, and when a rod was cast
into the booth the occupant, who could observe who was in front of the screen, put a package on the hook—just according to whim.
Then there was a parcel post sale
and in this, purchasers were compelled to pay the "postage" before
the package was delivered.
Students and teachers took keen
interest in the affair, which was pronounced a decided success.

Among the famous men who have
been fond of cats was Victor Hugo,
the French novelist, who was never happy unless there was one in his room.

WASHINGTONVILLE SCHOOL FAIR IS GREAT SUCCESS

Children of the Washingtonville
school in an effort to secure funds to pay off the debt on their piano and
money to buy supplementary reading,
"put it over" last Friday night, when
under the direction of Miss Mary
Fitzsimmons, a school fair was held.
There were booths arranged in the
different rooms, from which candies,
fruits, pastry and fancywork were
sold, and there were "fish" booths,
into which customers "fished" for
packages.
Fishing provoked much merriment,
as the back of the booth was
darkened, and when a rod was cast
into the booth the occupant, who could observe who was in front of
the screen, put a package on the
hook—just according to whim.
Then there was a parcel post sale
and in this, purchasers were compelled to pay the "postage" before
the package was delivered.
Students and teachers took keen
interest in the affair, which was pronounced a decided success.

Among the famous men who have
been fond of cats was Victor Hugo,
the French novelist, who was never happy unless there was one in his
room.

VOTERS' VERDICT PLEASES DUFFY

Means Increased Benefits for Injured Workmen.

TO AMEND COMPENSATION ACT

Open Liability of Employers Eliminated by the Amendments Adopted at the Recent Election—Ohio Ranks Second in Automobile Industry. Desirable Prizes for Farm Boys and Girls to Shoot At.

Columbus, Nov. 8.—T. J. Duffy, chairman of the state industrial commission, which has charge of enforcing the workmen's compensation law and acting on all claims, declared in a statement issued here that approval of the amendments to the compensation law by the voters Tuesday means increased benefits for injured workmen of the state, and modification of the present law which will provide Ohio with the most liberal compensation law of any state in the Union. Mr. Duffy continued:

"Three very desirable objects will be accomplished by the adoption of this constitutional amendment. First, it eliminates that feature of the workmen's compensation law which makes it necessary for injured workers and the widows and children of workers killed in the course of employment to sacrifice their right to compensation in case they sue for damages on the ground that the injury or death was caused by the failure of the employer to comply with the lawful requirements adopted for the protection of the life, limb and health of the workers; second, it eliminates the 'open liability' feature of the workmen's compensation law under which an employer might be compelled to pay a judgment running into many thousands of dollars as a result of a verdict rendered against him in an industrial injury case, even though he had complied with all the requirements of the workmen's compensation law and had paid his premium into the state insurance fund; third, it opens up the way and provides the means to adopt and enforce accident prevention regulations that will mean the saving of life, limb and health to the thousands of workers in the industries of Ohio.

"During the past 10 years this 'open liability' has been the greatest weapon on the insurance men have had in their fight upon the state insurance fund and they fully realize that with 'open liability' eliminated, their fight against the state fund is lost forever.

"Beginning with Jan. 1, 1924, the maximum award in a death claim under the workmen's compensation law will be $6,500. If the industrial commission finds that the death was caused by failure to comply with lawful requirements and grants an additional award of 50 per cent, it will make the amount $9,750. If we add the $150 allowed for funeral expenses it makes $9,900. If any medical expense has been incurred prior to the death, that is paid also. So we can reasonably say that after Jan. 1, where death is caused by failure to live up to lawful requirements the dependents will be entitled to $10,000."

In a report just issued by the federal census bureau it is shown that Ohio ranked second in the year 1921 in the automobile industry. Michigan led and Indiana was third. Two hundred and twenty-eight establishments in Ohio were engaged in the manufacture of automobiles, including bodies and parts, that year. The census places the value of the product for the year in the state at $223,385,373. Raw material cost $145,783,966, the amount paid out in wages was $32,429,066, and the amount paid out in salaries was $12,690,076. For the United States as a whole, there was turned out in 1921 motor vehicles, including bodies and parts, valued at $2,679,403,508.

The average number of wage earners engaged in the industry in Ohio was 22,670. Officers, managers, clerks and other salaried employees numbered 4,102.

Cleveland and Dayton are the only Ohio cities for which complete figures are given. In Cleveland 75 establishments manufacturing motor vehicles, including bodies and parts, employed 10,512 wage earners, paid out $15,930,203 in wages, consumed materials costing $72,645,519, and produced an output valued at $89,955,419. Dayton produced automobiles, including bodies and parts, worth $2,265,996. In Columbus 10 establishments employed 307 wage earners, paid out $290,052 in wages, consumed materials costing $529,304 and turned out products valued at $1,488,345. These establishments were engaged in the manufacture of bodies and parts. The census bureau states that it can not give separate figures for Columbus in regard to the manufacture of motor vehicles "without the possibility of disclosing the operations of individual establishments."

Great as is the automobile industry in Ohio, Michigan still maintains a big lead over all the other states. In Michigan 218 establishments produced an output valued at $988,170,900 in 1921. This was 47.6 per cent of the entire distribution in the country, while Ohio had 10.7 per cent.

Now that the fall election is a thing of the past, attention of the League of Women Voters over the state will be turned toward furthering the United States' entrance into the world court, according to announcement from the headquarters of the Ohio League of Women Voters. A petition reading as follows will go to every league in the state to be signed by thousands of voters:

"Whereas, for a generation the United States has favored the movement for the establishment of an international court; therefore, we, the undersigned citizens of the state of Ohio, earnestly petition the president and senate of the United States to act at once and favorably upon the proposal that this nation enter the permanent court of international justice."

League leaders over the state are working to get these petitions signed by 60,000 citizens—or by a sufficient number to make a "mile of signatures."

Why should the farmer have purebreds and why should we have Herefords, Angus or Shorthorns? These are the questions which hundreds of Ohio youngsters will endeavor to answer before Dec. 5, closing date set for the Ohio Farmers' "Purebreds for Dad" contest which was announced at Cleveland.

Three blue-blooded bull calves from three of Ohio's foremost beef cattle breeders have been given by their owners as prizes in this contest, one for each breed represented. The Hereford calf comes from the well-known Peebles stock farm of Newley, Ohio, owned by Joe B. Peebles of Portsmouth, Ohio. Northeastern Ohio contributes the Shorthorn calf, this royally-bred individual carrying the blood of all the noted sires of the breed in his veins and coming from Ravendale farm at Freedom Station, Ohio, owned by William H. Pow of Ravenna, Ohio. The Aberdeen-Angus calf, likewise as richly bred, comes from still another part of the state, Marion county, the donor being the Scioto stock farm, owned by A. J. Jones & Son, Larue, Ohio.

The judges of this unique contest will be H. C. Ramsower, director of the agricultural college extension service; W. H. Palmer, boys' and girls' club leader, and Paul Gerlaugh, livestock specialist, all of Ohio State university.

The contest is open to any boy or girl between the ages of 13 and 20 inclusive; the story limit is 1200 words and all stories must be mailed to the Beef Contest Editor, the Ohio Farmer, Cleveland, Ohio, on or before Dec. 5, 1923.

According to officials of Ohio State university, never in the history of the school has there been enrollment in physical culture education reached the number that are now taking this work. Freshman students enrolled in physical education number 1,783, the largest enrollment in the history of the school.

More students, according to figures, have a leaning toward the fist game, for freshman enrolled in boxing classes number 333. Tennis is the next in popularity. Enrollment in tennis classes has been placed at 262. Not far behind the tennis classes are those in which is taught modified football. These classes are conducted indoors on the gymnasium floor and have an enrollment of 222 students.

Probably the least heard of sport is soccer, which has been growing in popularity year after year at Ohio State university and which this year has a record-breaking class of 69 students, which is the largest class in the sport that has ever been held at the university.

First steps in negotiations between the state and this city for purchase and sale of the old city hall site on East State street were taken by council, when reappraisal of the site was ordered. Governor Donahue had requested in a letter to the mayor that council fix a price on the ground and the mayor communicated the request to council. The governor also asked that some one be empowered to deal with the state building commission in the matter. The site will be used for a state office building, according to present plans, the legislature having authorized $2,000,000 for such a building.

City Attorney Leach was requested by council to have a board reappraise the site and President of Council Zimpfer was empowered to represent the city. The site was appraised in 1921 at $5,000 a front foot, or $800,000 for the whole area. It is 187½ by 120 feet. It is believed that changes in real estate values make a reappraisal advisable.

Third street property under consideration is also being reappraised for the state.

In a letter to Congressman Theodore E. Burton, Secretary of State Thad Brown offers his services in behalf of getting the Republican national convention for Cleveland in 1924. Brown tendered himself as a worker in the cause and indicated that in his belief Ohio can win the convention if it goes after it.

"I will be in Washington on Nov. 15, when the sub-committee meets there to consider selecting a convention city," Brown wrote to Mr. Burton. "If I can be of any service to you and your conference I am at your disposal."

20,000 IN PARADE OF KLUXERS, SOME ROBED AND MASKED

Youngstown, Nov. 12.—The parade of Ku Klux Klansmen and women, as a feature of the Mahoning klonkave Saturday night, brought out about 20,000 with white robes for men, women and horses in abundance.

No signs of disturbance were visible anywhere. The parade was headed by four mounted policemen.

Probably two-thirds of those who marched were not in costume. They marched in citizens' clothes, without the customary symbols of the white robe and hood. The remainder were hooded, and most of them, contrary to the previous announcement that they would remain unmasked, kept their faces covered with the long white visors.

The parade was one of splendor in many ways. Several colorful floats were driven along in the midst of the Klansmen. One was the replica of an American flag, made out of red, white and blue ribbons, with electric lights illuminating the field. Another showed a facade of Uncle Sam. Others bore banners with the customary Ku Klux slogans, stating their position on immigration, the church, the school and other things.

It is estimated that about 25,000 gathered at the klonkave and the advance predictions made for the crowd fell far short. It had been declared that 150,000 men and women would parade, but persons with a taste for mathematics here figured that it would take all night for this number to pass.

Traffic, while the parade was going on, was in terrible shape. Not enough police were on hand to manage it and Klansmen were making an ineffective substitute for traffic officers. Automobiles were blocked for a mile in every direction.

"We'll accommodate any who want to be married," declared Probate Judge Lodge Riddle late Saturday afternoon, replying to a telephone message from Sebring.

Lem D. Duke of Sebring proposed to marry Eva L. Barton of East Liverpool, Saturday night, and on the office of the court was opened until after 6 o'clock. Rev. P. W. Macaulay of the Lisbon Presbyterian church performed the ceremony.

While this license was being issued, into the court room stepped Elmer C. Wright and Golda Gooding, both of East Liverpool, and license was issued to them.

C. E. Societies Of Damascus Quarterly Meeting Name Officers.

A number from the First Friends church attended the Christian Endeavor rally of the societies of Damascus Quarterly meeting Sunday afternoon at the Damascus Friends church.

Rev. C. E. Haworth, pastor of the local church, gave an address using as his theme "This Is Your Hour." He spoke of the hour of youth, its possibilities and dangers. He pointed out that although we were living in an unusual age, yet due to this fact we could make it a time of great victory.

Rev. Mr. Haworth told the young people he believed in having a good time but at the same time warned against indulgence in world pleasures.

Officers of the union elected at this meeting are: President, Fred Chambers, Damascus; secretary, Charles Mahnsberry, Gosport; treasurer, Miss Pearl A. Walker, Salem; life recruit superintendent, Everett Catell, Alliance; vice president, Sylvester Naylor, Beloit.

Rev. Samuel Mosher, superintendent of Ohio Yearly meeting, spoke at the Saturday morning session of the quarterly meeting.

At the afternoon session a letter was read from Mrs. M. M. Coffin, wife of Rev. Coffin, written in France while enroute to Nowgour, India, where he will engage in missionary work. The Coffins were formerly of this city.

Unique Street Costume

The demand is for individual styles in ready-to-wear clothes, and it is answered by such rich and unique street costumes as that pictured here. This is a skirt and coat combination of a new sort—made of blue twill—the skirt ankle length and plain, and the mandarin coat heavily embroidered in colored silks.

Can't Stop Joint-Ease

"You can't stop people from buying Joint-Ease for sore throat and cold in chest," writes one of our druggist friends. They say it's the best ever."

We know that, of course, but please remember that Joint-Ease is for stiff, swollen, painful joints, whether rheumatic or not and its tremendous sale for that purpose proves that it is the one joint remedy that gets the most satisfying results.

A tube costs 60 cents at The J. H. Lease Drug Co., Floding's drug store, Bolker & French and druggists everywhere. Just rub it on and in a few seconds it disappears completely under the skin and relief follows instantly.

Dayton — Dayton street car companies have been given until Jan. 1 to restore two-man street cars or do something else. It has been indicated the companies will appeal to the public utilities commission from the overwhelming vote of the people against the one-man system.

CROSS CONTINENT AIR MAIL

Twenty-Seven-Hour Service From Coast to Coast Will Soon Enough Be Considered Slow.

The postal service in a three-day series of tests has succeeded in establishing the feasibility of a transcontinental air-mail service in approximately 27 or 28 hours.

In 1899 the pony express in 25-mile relays through prairies and mountains and Indian country made the trip from St. Joseph, Mo., to San Francisco in eight days. The regular overland mail service from New York to California takes five days.

The post office enjoys the success of a present wonder, but it must expect the penalty of accomplishment. Twenty-seven-hour service will soon be thought of, not as a saving of four days, but as slow time against a 20 or 15-hour service.

The first cargoes, naturally enough, consisted mainly of newspapers and letters of congratulation. It will be interesting to see whether East and West will find any change in the sort of letters they send now that they have an efficient way to send them.

Transatlantic and transpacific services will soon link on and perhaps London, New York and Tokyo newspapers will print early editions for foreign continents as they do for suburban districts today.

OPERATIONS ON THE HEART

Two Boston Surgeons Cut Constricted Valves of the Organ and Patient Recovered.

If there is one organ of the body that is viewed with awe by the physician and the layman alike, it is the heart. It is only within recent years that surgeons have attempted to approach this organ, even for attempts at repair following stab wounds or gunshot injuries.

Last year Doctors Allen and Graham of the Washington University Medical school in St. Louis performed operations on animals with a device called the cardiograph, says Hylga. Last month Doctors Cutler and Levine of Boston operated directly on the heart of a patient who was seriously ill with heart disease, and apparently they were successful in cutting the constricted valves and in replacing the heart after the procedure was completed.

At the time the operation was reported, the patient had recovered from the operation, although it was too soon to say whether the procedure had been of benefit in controlling the disease of the heart.

Maid-Servant's Paradise.

There is no servant shortage in the village of Guildford, in England, probably due to the continuance of a quaint custom, known as Maid's Money. Every year a sum of money is given to the maid-servant who, being of good repute and having been in service in the borough for more than two years (that is in a tavern), shall throw the highest number with two dice. The amount received by the successful thrower has been known to approach $50. The money was provided by John How about 220 years ago, when he placed considerable property in trust for this purpose. How, who was elected mayor of Guildford on three occasions, inaugurated the ceremony in the council chamber of the old town hall, where it has taken place each year since.

Only 1,700 Yanks Unidentified.

Of the 50,000 men in the World war who died overseas less than 1,700 have not been identified. Contrast this with the story our national cemeteries tell of those who fell in the Civil war. These burying grounds contain the graves of 170,162 known and 147,800 unknown Union soldiers. All of our unknowns, save one, lie with 20,000 comrades in the beautiful American cemeteries in Europe. The graves registration service was established in France in September of 1917, before a single American soldier had been in battle. — American Legion Weekly.

A Great Game Park.

The recently discovered game park in what was formerly German East Africa was long a German secret, according to the Illustrated London News. The park is the crater of an extinct volcano. It is nearly twelve miles square, two thousand feet deep and on the remarkable clover pasture surrounding a large lake are no fewer than seventy-five thousand head of big game that never leave it. So carefully did the Germans guard the discovery that the lions living in the park are described as daylight lions due to their tameness and habit of appearing in the daytime.

Airplanes for Mine Rescue Work.

In Alabama the bureau of mines is using airplanes to rush trained rescue workers and oxygen-breathing apparatus to the scenes of mine disasters. The bureau has hitherto depended on trains and motor trucks to reach remote mining camps, but now hopes to supplement this service with the quicker airplanes. Mines that provide landing fields will get quick service. — Youth's Companion.

Gov. Ritchie Is Re-Elected In Maryland.

Gov. Albert X. Ritchie, a Democrat, who, on his first election, reclaimed his state from the Republicans, has been re-elected governor of Maryland, the first governor to be re-elected under the present laws of the state. Gov. Ritchie is said to be a "wet," and favors racing as an industry and sport in his state.

ARMISTICE DAY

Americanism. We remember what our dear departed comrades did, those brave men, most of whom we left over there, paying the supreme sacrifice.

"He who would give his life for another, yes, millions of others, is a hero, a treasure to the history of democracy. May we always remember that, and carry on so that true democracy may be attained, so that the storm and strife of war may finally be brought to an end.

"These men died for America, our country, the land of rocks and hills that we all love so well. It was their country and for that reason may we never in any way cast a reflection on our flag, our country, because it was their flag, their country."

Rev. Miller said a prayer for the dead and then amid a tomb-like silence, broken only by a far distant train whistle, the firing squad of the American Legion fired a salute to the hero dead, signified by the grave of Charles H. Carey.

As the last volley sounded over the valley south of the burial ground George Chappell sounded taps. The sound of the bugle, with an element of sadness in its usual high tones was the final bit of Salem's ex-service men who Sunday did their part to honor those they had known and loved.

Present Flag To Library

The procession moved back to Salem Public Library where Post Chaplain Miller presented the library board, represented by C. H. Brooks, with a beautiful American flag, which will wave from aloft on the high flag pole erected in the front yard of the library property.

"It is not just this flag but the significance and content of the flag which I think of as I am presenting the Stars and Stripes to you," Rev. Miller said.

The chaplain emphasized the true content and meaning of the flag, and what it would stand for as it waves over the heads of Salemites daily.

In accepting the flag, Atty. Brooks said in part:

"A nation's flag is in a certain sense the emblem of the nation's character and as a nation's character is respected so is the flag of that nation respected. In the life of all nations great crises come, and happy is that people who after a great trial is passed can feel the strengthening of their own national conscience and can look upon their national emblem as representative of an added strength and added power for good in the long way of a nation's life."

The keeping of the flag was intrusted to the Boy Scouts.

Two Boy Scouts from Troop 3, Marian Van Syoc and Raymond Coburn, had charge of the flag the first night.

As the flag was pulled up the Quaker City band played the Star Spangled Banner and Armistice day in Salem, as regards a set program of observance, was at an end.

LEADERS BACK MELLON PLAN TO CUT TAXES

Washington, Nov. 12.—Administration leaders in congress today approved in substance the recommendation of Secy. of the Treasury Mellon for a slashing tax reduction.

Mellon's program, outlined in a letter to Representative Green, Republican of Iowa, slated to be next chairman of the house ways and means committee, would save taxpayers of the country $320,000,000 annually. The greatest cut would be on income sur taxes, which would be scaled progressively upward to 25 per cent of $100,000, an estimated loss in revenue of $200,000,000.

Lisbon-Leetonia Rd. Getting Tar Surface

With favorable weather prevailing, the spreading of the tar filler over the south end of the Lisbon-Leetonia inter-county highway will be finished within the next two days. A crew of men labored Sunday on this road, when several hundred feet was spread.

About one quarter of the new floor of the Canton bridge has been laid by Contractor Herman C. Armstrong. Steel stringers have been delivered, also the wood flooring. Early completion of the bridge job depends entirely upon the weather.

Schwab Tells Of His Big Loans To Women.

Mrs. Myrtle B. Hayes & Charles M. Schwab

For 20 years Charles M. Schwab, steel master and multimillionaire, made loans to Mrs. Myrtle B. Hayes, who is now under indictment in New York, charged with forging his name to notes which she was using to finance the erection of a $5,000,000 apartment hotel in Boston. He made the loans, he swore in bankruptcy proceedings in New York, because in 1902 he had advanced her $2,000 and he feared that if she should stop there would be some publicity regarding his past loan to her, which would result in a erroneous construction being placed upon his previous association with her.

FALLING IN LOVE WITH BOOKS HELPS STUDENT, HE SAYS

Most Popular Reading Is That Which Calls For Least Effort.

The following article, written by Robert J. Alex, president of Butler college, Indianapolis, Ind., is reproduced here in the hope that it may serve to arouse more interest in Book Week, being observed in Salem this week.

"I have found in a long experience in college and university work that the high school graduate who comes to college invariably gives a good account of himself if he has fallen in love with the book.

"The other side of the story, is, as many of you doubtless know, that the high school student who is not caught by the lure of the book either leaves school without completing the course, or after graduation helps to recruit that army of young people who do nothing worth while. You also know that many of those who fall in college, have not learned how to use books or have not been caught by their lure.

"Most of us have not had experience enough in reading material that is difficult to understand. We have the newspaper habit of reading, the magazine habit of reading, the best-seller habit of reading.

"In this sort of reading there is no particular strain upon the gray matter. A large part of the meaning, perhaps all that is needed, may be obtained by reading a sentence here and there. One may read an hour and get the usual size in an hour and listen intelligently to those who rave about the book.

"The kind of reading that most young people actually do does not call for very much effort. It does not require much attentive study, and hence the results have no serious value.

"Boys and girls of the High school are tremendously influenced by the attitude of their teachers toward books. I do mean, not the attitude of the English teachers alone, but the attitude of all the teachers. Many young people think that it is the business of the English teacher to recommend books. They believe the commendation if it comes from someone else. It seems that the teachers of English have not wholly succeeded in creating a love for the book.

"I regard it as a fortunate change that librarians no longer regard the books as their personal property which must, at all cost, be protected from the contaminating touch of the reader. The reader should and generally does have free access to the shelves. It is by this free access that the student learns something of the range of literature and knowledge and gets a speaking acquaintance with books of which he would otherwise know nothing.

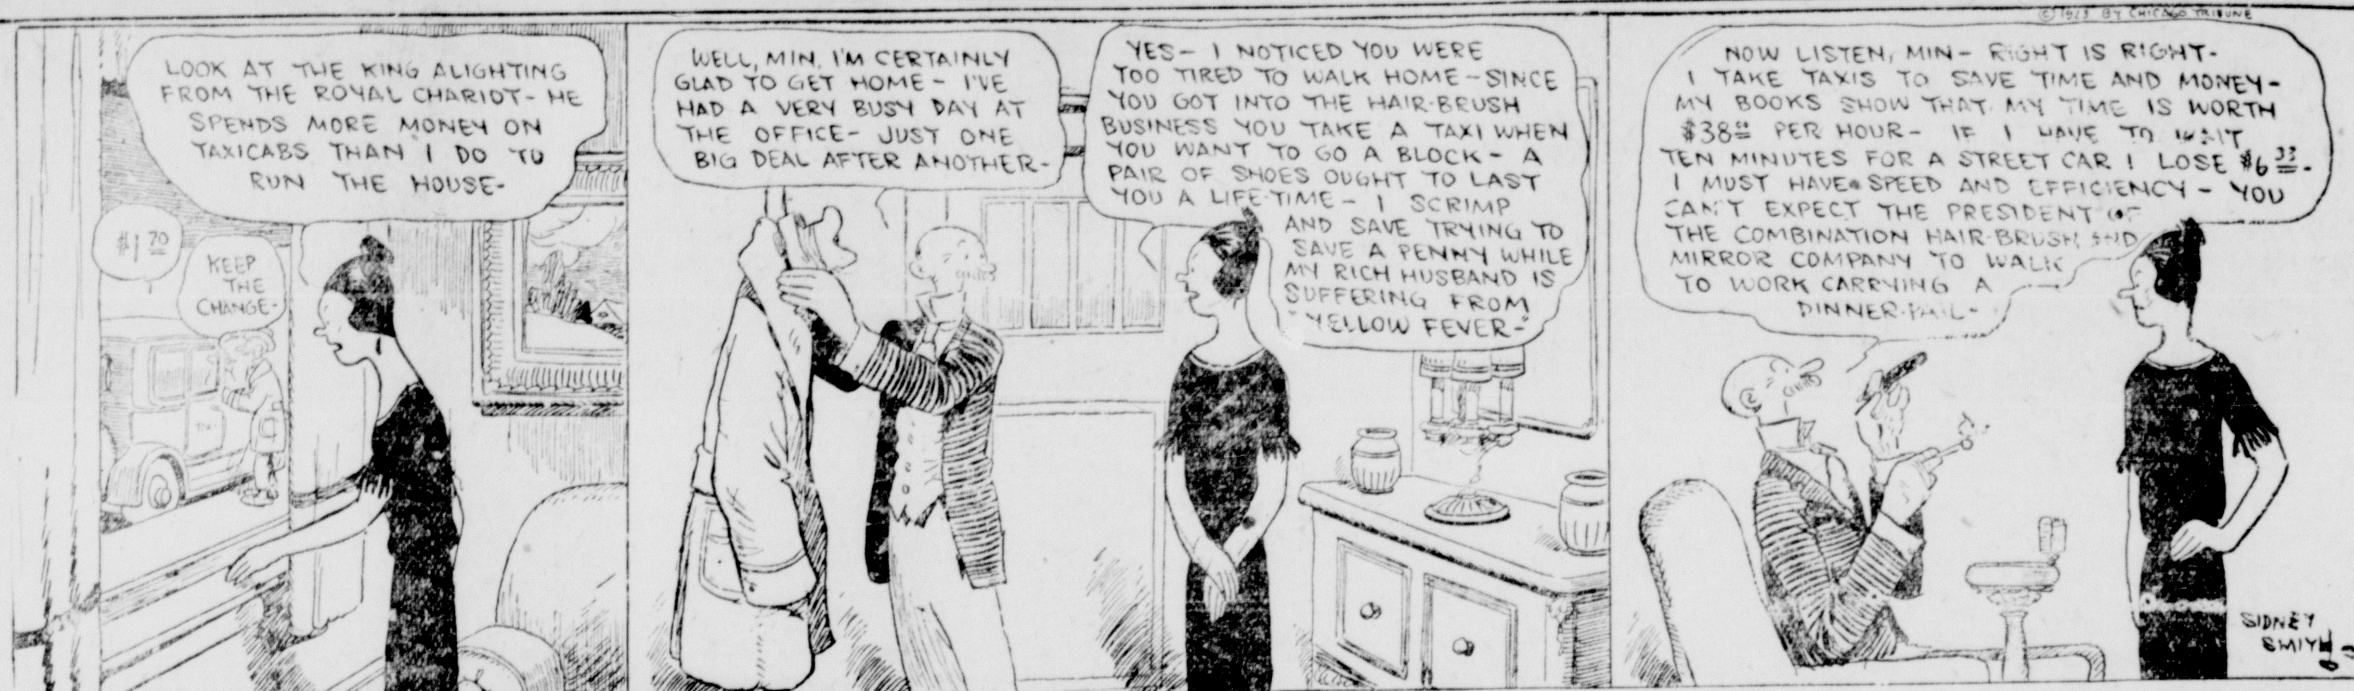

"My own richest book experiences have come in that way. Exposure to books is a great thing. The librarian and the teacher should unite to make this exposure as great as possible. "The reader and lover of the book is a safe and valuable citizen. Our duty is to see to it that our scholars have every opportunity to know the books, to be expert in using them, and to come under the influence of the charm and power."

Origin of Word "Brandy."

The original name of the liquor known as brandy was brandywine, from the fact that (in the countries where it is not prohibited by law) it was, and still is produced by the distillation of wines. The word lost its "wine" part because the English language has the happy faculty of dropping unessential parts of words to save time.

"Brandy" traces its origin to the word "brand," as in "brand from the burning," for the simple reason that the product known as "brandy" or "cognac" was produced by the process of burning, which in all the Germanic languages is designated by some form of the word "brand." To the word "brand" as in "brandy," the word "burn" is also related.

"Three Wise Fools"

A working road picture is Goldwyn's film version of Austin Strong's successful stage play, "Three Wise Fools," which comes to the State Theater tonight for three days. It has been directed by King Vidor with all of his feeling for actuality in characterization, in atmosphere and in background.

It's story is that of three old bachelors who agree to take charge of the grown daughter of the girl who had rejected the love of all three of them in their youth. Comedy complications ensue fast and furiously and soon become interwoven in a series of dramatic incidents which are solved happily for all concerned after the girl has been jailed on a charge of aiding and abetting three criminals to break out of prison. "Three Wise Fools" has almost everything in it that the most jaded fan could wish for—comedy, romance, reality, thrills and spectacular moments.
